Skin Quenching Facial

Skin becomes dehydrated, dry, and generally dull in the winter months. Add in the effects of over consumption, hot circulated air, and cold winds, and it's a recipe for disaster. This skin quenching facial will rescue, hydrate, protect and nourish lack lustre skin. A great complexion booster to start your year.

- Skin is cleansed with hydrating raw coconut oil - super kind to the skin
- Skin is toned with rose water and aloe vera for hydration & restoration
- Superfruit face polish is applied - packed with omegas to nourish
- Vitamin enriched Bilberry and chamomile mask calms your skin
- Enjoy a hand, arm, and neck massage while the mask works its magic

Once your mask is peeled off, the intense pomegranate day cream is applied, which is packed with powerful anti-oxidants - key for skin nutrition and promoting healthy ageing and reducing inflammation. We recommend this treatment once a month.

Move over platinum, creamy vanilla is the new blonde on the block. It's a warmer white without any icy undertones. For darker-haired beauties, go for rich candy-inspired tones like chocolates, cocoas and caramels.

Cutting Trends for 2018

It's all about thicker, healthier-looking hair.

While polished curls are always pretty, more effortless textures are in to start 2018's styling trends. Show off your hair's natural body by creating a soft bend with your styling iron.

The LOB will continue to be a popular choice, but it should be a blunt cut on the edge and textured throughout the layers to give it some movement so it can be manipulated and easily styled.
